

GERLACH STATES HIS VERSION OF DISPUTE OVER REFORM SCHOOL

Corporal Punishment a Necessity at Industrial School.

HAD TRIED OTHER METHODS

Essence of the Superintendent's Testimony Before the Board of Administration Last Week—Formal Hearing Commenced by the Board at Lancaster Today—Thurman Issues Statement.

Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Superintendent Gerlach of the Boys' Industrial home, near Lancaster, testified before the state board of administration last week that while he did not believe in corporal punishment, he had been impressed with its necessity, through experience at the school. His testimony has just been made public. At the time it was given he had not been apprised of charges made by Rev. J. G. Schaibly, chaplain at the institution.

Major Gerlach testified that after the board ordered corporal punishment abolished he had inspected the system of "meditation chambers" followed at the Mansfield reformatory, and had sought to install it at Lancaster, with the result that boys had torn up the floors and broken down the doors. Then he installed the correctional cottage and resumed corporal punishment with the sanction of three members of the board.

At Lancaster Major Gerlach denied reports that he was preparing to resign. A formal hearing was begun by the board at Lancaster.

It became known that a number of probate judges had refused to send boys to the Lancaster school pending the outcome of the present investigation.

President Allen W. Thurman of the board, while not endeavoring to whitewash the institution, declared emphatically that conditions can not be materially remedied until the state's institutional system is changed and expressed the opinion that the state must at once make a new classification of the boys sent there.

Crushed by an Auto Truck.

STRIKERS ROUT RAILWAY POLICE; BLOOD IS SPILLED

Make Charge Against a Force
Guarding Strikebreakers.

KILL TWO MEN AND WOUND NINE

Italian and Polish Coal Handlers, Armed With Shotguns, Revolvers and Crowbars, Rout Detectives and the Men Who Had Taken Their Places, in a Battle at the Edgewater Yards of the Erie Railroad.

New York, Dec. 12.—Two hundred striking coal handlers, mostly of Italian or Polish origin, armed themselves with shotguns, revolvers and crowbars and made a concerted charge against a force of railroad detectives which was guarding some strikebreakers who were filling in for the strikers in the Edgewater, N. J., yards of the New York, Susquehanna & Western railroad.

The crowd killed two of the railroad detectives, wounded nine more and chased the other detectives and the strikebreakers back to the cover of a sheltered dock. Then the strikers retreated back up the face of the Palisades, whence they came, carrying with them some of their number who had been shot, no one knows how badly.

The dead: Andrew J. Crow of Elmira, N. Y., captain of the E. R. railroad detectives; Clarence Mallory of Binghamton, N. Y., Erie railroad detective, shot through the heart.

The striking Italians and Poles went on strike Tuesday morning. Early that morning they all appeared for work and demanded 25 cents an hour for their work, for which they had been getting 20 cents an hour. The advance in pay was refused them, whereupon they promptly struck. The following day they shot Lieutenant Farrington of the Edgewater police, and a force of 65 detectives was planted around the road.

The strikers became incensed when they sighted an old ferryboat with a hundred or more strikebreakers pull into the dock of the coal yards. Detectives under Captain Crow were strung alongside the outer edge of the yard.

Strikers appeared and began firing. In a long string, one man deep, they swept down to the road. By this time their bullets had dropped half a dozen of the railroad detectives and the rest of the group were beginning to break. Captain Crow was among the first to be hit. The detectives, picking up Captain Crow, who was unconscious, backed away.

As soon as the strikers saw they had driven the detectives back they invaded the coal yard. Then they ran pell mell all over the yard, shooting with buckshot, with which most of their weapons were loaded.

Sheriff Conklin of Bergen county assumed charge of the yards, with 35 deputies behind him. One hundred armed detectives were added to the railroad force.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO VISIT CANAL ZONE.

The president will leave Washington on the midnight of Dec. 19 for Key West, Fla., arriving there Dec. 21, and with his party will embark immediately on the United States steamship Akansas. It is expected that he will reach Panama the afternoon of Dec. 24.

Probing New York's Stock Exchange

Evidence Introduced to Show
Business Largely Speculative.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The Pujol committee of the house began its investigation of the New York stock exchange. Many reams of statistics were introduced in evidence with a view to showing that an overwhelming percentage of the business on the exchange in the so-called active stocks represents speculative and not investment transactions.

In this connection the committee probed into the well-known operations in Amalgamated Copper stock back in the spring and summer of 1907. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, charged in effect that a corner in the supply of copper had been effected through the United Metals Selling company, of which the late H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller were the moving spirits.

Tobias Wolfson, assistant manager of the company, acknowledged on the stand that in five months of that year the United Metals Selling company had advanced over $42,000,000 to producers on copper and that during that period something less than 5,000,000 pounds had been marketed by his company, which, Mr. Untermyer contended, controlled the sales of between 60 and 70 per cent of the entire copper production of the country. The normal sales for a five months' period would, it was estimated, be between 150,000,000 and 200,000,000 pounds.

The intimations plainly conveyed by counsel for the investigators were that a high price of copper was maintained through creating an artificial shortage in the market until the insiders of the Amalgamated company had succeeded in unloading a large volume of stock on the public.

Manager Wolfson contended emphatically that there had been no artificial manipulation of the copper market and that the United Metals Selling company had not been used to make money in the stock market for insiders.

The pool agreement under which J. M. Fisk & Company manipulated Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron stock for brokers was put in evidence. The details of the Hocking pool, the manipulation of the price from 20 up to 90, the final collapse and the disappearance of Hocking from the market were described.

Toledo, O., Dec. 12.—With drawn revolvers, bandits held up a switching crew near the police station. They compelled the engineer to detach and run the locomotive to a distant part of the yards, while five men looted freight cars, stealing cigars and merchandise valued at $1,000.

Governor Withholds Commissions. Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—To give opportunity for the bringing of a test suit to determine if the circuit judges-elect can serve as judges of the new appellate court, Governor Harmon has directed Secretary of State Graves to withhold the commissions of these officials.

HIGHER RATES HELD ILLEGAL

New York Court of Appeals on Royal Arcanum Case.

DECISION A FAR-REACHING ONE

Under It Any Member of the Organization Could Sue to Recover Money Paid Under the Increased Assessment—Supreme Council to Carry the Fight into the United States Supreme Court.

New York, Dec. 12.—The court of appeals decided that the Royal Arcanum had not acted legally in raising the insurance assessment levied against Samuel Green, a Brooklyn lawyer, and the original rate of assessment made against him would have to stand. This ruling offers to thousands of other members of the association an opportunity to sue the organization for the money they have paid under the advanced rate, which was raised for them at the same time it was raised for Mr. Green.

The supreme council of the organization feel the decision against them is so serious that they will take the fight into the supreme court of the United States. It was said by Thomas I. Crane, grand vice regent of the supreme council of the state of New York. Mr. Crane said that if all the members were to be enabled to get insurance from the Royal Arcanum at the rate which the court of appeals decided that Mr. Green can get his, the association must go into bankruptcy.

The Royal Arcanum has 354,000 members and owes on benefit certificates almost $700,000,000. Mr. Crane said that the association has a surplus of $10,000,000 above all liabilities, and it is from this fund that the amount of Mr. Green's payments above what he originally contracted to pay will be paid back.

The Royal Arcanum is the fifth largest insurance organization in the country and one of the oldest.

Big Deal Pushed Through

Tinker to Manage Reds and Frank Chance the Highlanders.

New York, Dec. 12.—As per schedule, the plan by which Joe Tinker becomes the manager of the Reds, and Frank L. Chance is turned over to the New York Highlanders, went through without a hitch. After a long talk in private August Herrmann, owner of the Reds, agreed to make the trade with C. W. Murphy, owner, and John Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs. The Cubs have released Tinker, together with two young players, Catcher Chapman and Pitcher Lauderhill. In exchange for this trio the Reds have turned over to Murphy Outfielder Mike Mitchell, Infielder Phelan, Outfielder Knisely, Pitcher Humphries and Shortstop Red Corridon. By the terms of the deal Herrmann will pay $7,500 to the Detroit club for Corridon, on whose services all of the American league clubs have waived.

New Board of Woman Visitors. Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Governor Harmon appointed as members of the board of woman visitors to state charitable and penal institutions Mrs. Maude Murray Miller, Columbus; Mrs. Jeannette Opeas, New Philadelphia; Mrs. Nathan Rosewater, Cleveland; Mrs. Kate Pangle Strain, London; Miss Blanche Vignos, Canton; Mrs. Mary Proctor Wilson, Lebanon. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Opeas are new appointees; the others were reappointed.

IT WAS the night before Christmas, when all through the house, not a soul had a penny, not even the mouse. Tired, happy, broke, they all could say, with Tiny Tim, "God bless us, every one!" But of course all this has nothing to do with the little kiddies above. They are the real connoisseurs of the Christmas season, who can pick and choose at their wishes, the dear old humbug, so why should they worry? All over the land the children are playing this pleasant game, happy and innocent, joyous and glad, waiting for the fulfillment of their excited dreams.

Tillers Of Soil Demand Measures

Ohio Farmers Form New State Organization.

Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—For the purpose of securing legislation beneficial to farms and to secure united action on all questions pertaining to agriculture, representatives from 10 counties in Ohio met here and organized the Ohio State Farmers' association, for which articles of incorporation were issued.

William Rusler of Lima is president of the new organization. He says the association will be conducted in harmony with the granges in the state. The membership is confined to male persons more than 21 years of age. The bylaws stipulate that the organization shall be "strictly nonpartisan and nonsectarian."

Other officers of the association elected were: Abraham Mumper, Urbana, first vice president; Fred Gross, Jefferson, second vice president; W. A. McDorman, Celina, treasurer; E. J. Kitchen, Springfield, secretary; U. A. Martin, Kenton; Verne Hagley, Celina; and John Millroy, Huntsville, trustees.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 12.—Two masked gunmen held up Jacob Boncha, in his bed, and at the point of a gun forced him to give up his savings, amounting to $280, by threatening violence to his bride of a year. Boncha had saved the money to pay to an aunt in Denver who had set him up in business.

CONSTRUCTION ENGINEER WAS IN THE CITY TODAY

Confers With Local Traction Men
With View to Building the Washington to Hillsboro Line.
All Prospects Bright, Say Pro-motors.

Mr. Hans E. Seidl, chief engineer of the Francis J. Peck & Company, of Cleveland, O., was in this city Thursday conferring with Messrs. Chas. S. Sollars and O. T. Grafton, with a view to entering into a contract for the construction of the electric road from this city to Hillsboro.

The Peck Company is one of the largest firms of engineers, financiers and builders of railroads, interurban lines and other big enterprises in the state, and the concern is one of those interested in securing the contract for building the road.

During an interview with Mr. Sollars he stated that prospects were exceedingly bright and he was highly pleased with the result of Mr. Seidl's visit here. The extent of the progress made toward closing a deal was not divulged by Mr. Sollars.

The work of securing contracts for $4 per acre for all lands touching the road, and for smaller amounts where the lands do not touch the road but are near it, is progressing rapidly, although nothing of importance has been done this week owing to the breaking of their automobile, which has required several days for repairs.

Farmers all along the line between Washington and Hillsboro are very enthusiastic over the prospect of being in touch with the world by having an electric line pass their farms, or near them, and figure that it will be the means of making a big increase in their land valuations.

How the Winner Raised His Corn

Ninety-one Ohio farmer boys who entered the corn growing contest under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture, raised over 100 bushels per acre, and the lad who raised the most per acre was Dewey Hanes, of Darke county, who succeeded in producing 139.125 bushels per acre.

The average yield of corn in Ohio is only 35 bushels per acre this year. And yet the Ohio crop this year is far above the average.

Dewey tile-drained his acre, carefully selected his seed corn, took land that had been in alfalfa for a number of years, fertilized it with ten loads of manure and 600 pounds of commercial fertilizer containing ten per cent of phosphorus and six per cent of potash, planted on May 9 and cultivated frequently and carefully. It was cut and harvested between November 1 and 10.

There were 439 acres of land in Ohio planted and cultivated in this contest. The state board will award prizes for these ranging from $50 to $5 in addition to the Washington trip which all who won will get.

Ollie Downard Makes Escape

Ollie Downard, aged 22, the man who was found guilty of burglarizing the Acton Brothers store at Milledgeville last May, and sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory on September 18th, escaped from that prison Wednesday morning and is still at large.

Downard is the man who made a desperate effort to escape from the local jail while confined here, and he and another prisoner had removed a half barrel of mortar and brick before the effort was foiled by Sheriff Nelson.

Downard is regarded as a smooth crook, and on the witness stand proved himself an adept at falsifying. He has been in trouble a number of times but always succeeded in escaping conviction until the Milledgeville trouble.

The local police, as well as the police all over Ohio, have been notified to be on the lookout for the fugitive.

Seals Provide Friends in Need

A large, rugged-looking man stopped before a Red Cross Seal booth and looked at the display of seals with more than usual interest.

"And those will help the folks that are suffering with consumption?" he asked. He was told that was the idea.

"Then," he said, reaching down in his pocket, "here's where I get some seals. My wife," he explained, "died the year after we were married. She died of consumption. We were so happy, and I had done everything I could for her, but I didn't have much money then, and times were hard. I lost my job, too, because I got to work so late. You see I had the housework to do, and that took a lot of time, and they docked and finally fired me. I couldn't blame the company, but it was pretty hard. Right in the dead of winter, too! I could not get her the things I would have liked to, and there was no one to help me. Not a soul, for I was a stranger in a strange city, and so was my wife. She died in the spring," he added, as a tear trickled down his face. "And now I'm going to buy some of these seals so some other poor fellow can get help if he needs it like I needed it." And he did.

Captured Wolfe After Long Chase

The Chillicothe authorities are much elated over the capture of a Wolfe they have been chasing since last summer when "it" escaped from its cage and has since been running at large throughout the state.

The Wolfe in question was Bill Wolfe, one of the men who escaped from the Ross county jail. He was arrested in Columbus and taken back to face the music, and in addition to the jail breaking charge he must face a charge of stealing a $200 motorcycle, so that the indications for a term in the penitentiary are strong.

Wolfe's brother is also in the same jail, charged with assisting in the jail delivery.

CLUB NEWS

The Browning club women were glad to welcome back Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, club president, at their regular meeting last night.

The subject of Red Cross Seals for Christmas selling was again taken up and the Browning women expressed the hope that not only would the sale be large enough to meet the population enumerated, and so secure a nurse's service for our city, but that the entire 10,000 sent to the club would be sold.

The members took out the club's allotment for sale enthusiastically.

An important feature of the business was the reading of a letter from the committee on Household Economics of the State Federation of Clubs. The special points advised were that clubs endeavor to secure the introduction of Domestic Science in the Public schools; that each club should devote at least one session during the year to some phase of Household Economics; that clubs be asked to supplement their work by practical philanthropic work, such as supplying school lunches at cost, offering free instruction to working girls and busy housekeepers, and to aid in Housekeepers' Conferences in petitioning a law for Industrial Education in the schools; also to co-operate in the effort to provide a Home Economics building at the O. S. U. Scholarships are now available for young men and club women on application.

Mrs. Ada Jones presided during the evening's program presented by the Art department.

A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. Wheeler Bay on "Thorwaldsen", whose sculpture is the glory of the Swedish capital and no home in Copenhagen complete without some specimen of his work.

Thorwaldsen's first model brought him 800 ducats and that money landed him in Italy for twenty years of work. His crowning works are "Christ and His Twelve Disciples" and a statue of "Christus Consolator".

He died at 70 years of age suddenly in the Academy of Arts where he first won the gold prize, and was buried in the Thorwaldsen museum court yard to which he left his fortune.

Thorwaldsen's treatment of nature, of Greek Mythology seemed inspired and he is crowned by his countrymen with a laurel more lasting than that of kings.

Mrs. Kerr treated ably the subject of "Swedish Paintings." After the thirty years' war Sweden came into the possession of masterpieces from Heidelberg and places in Germany. Queen Christiana's gallery shows her to have been a great patron of art.

Roulson left half a million to bring Scandinavian works into the country and five scholarships have just been awarded to Swedish and Danish artists here.

The formal opening of the gallery December 10th in Washington, D. C., only living painters included in the exhibit.

Mrs. Kerr also gave extracts from a fine paper on "Race Progress and Emigration."

Two beautiful vocal solos were given by Miss Wilson, Miss Goldie Baughn accompanist.

The Woman's Guild of the Presbyterian church was hospitably entertained at the home of Mrs. Josephine Kerr yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. F. Dennis acting hostess of the month's Kensington.

The women enjoyed the sociability of the afternoon and the dainty refreshments served.

Surprise to Many Mothers and Fathers in Brooklyn.

New York, Dec. 12.—It may be a surprise to a good many fathers and mothers in Brooklyn but hundreds of children in that borough have been buying dream books and playing policy with the money they were supposed to buy candy and toys with. Through the efforts of Miss Grace Strachan, president of the Interborough Teachers' association, policy shopkeepers who have been encouraging little boys and girls to gamble are being rounded up by the police. John Fuchs and his wife Lena, charged with keeping a policy shop, were held in bonds of $1,000 each for examination Monday.

She admits that she threw the hatchet at the prime minister "only symbolically." The jury failed to agree. This is the same woman who was sentenced to five years' penal servitude on a charge of having attempted to set fire to the Dublin theater.

OVER IN DAYTON.

Just now our neighboring city—Dayton, the Gem City of Ohio—is shaken from center to circumference by the exposures of gambling and violations of the laws regulating the traffic in intoxicating liquors, all of which, it is contended by many Daytonians, has been going on for months past, with the knowledge and consent of some of the city officials.

Indeed, it is broadly hinted, if not openly charged, that graft is at the bottom of these known violations of law and that for a consideration some Dayton officials who had it within their power to check the immorality which has been running rampant, have been paid to let things go, wink at a wide open town, blind the people with fake attempts to enforce the laws, loudly proclaim their intention to enforce all laws and ordinances, and cry down by sheer force of noisy assertion and suggestion that there is anything wrong at all going on.

The cause of the disclosures and the consequent excitement is the same cause that has shaken up corrupt officials before—the Burns detectives.

What is now happening at Dayton is no different from that which has happened in other cities, except that it is a little closer to home and consequently more interesting.

No city, no matter how large, and no matter how small, can rest secure in the belief that what has occurred in sister cities will not occur within their own boundaries.

The detectives come quietly; no citizens' committee meets them at the train when they arrive, nobody knows when they come, how long they stay, where, when nor how they work, until the safety valve pops. When the explosion comes there is first a wild scurrying for cover, then loud protestations of innocence from those who have been caught but have not yet been informed that they are also among those who fell for a Burns' "plant". Then comes a period of intense silence, all around, then the pleas of guilty and the confessions, the selection of new officials and the new order of things is installed.

It is the same old story in each place—the work is simple and effective—artistically so—and the results are clean-cut and beneficial in the greatest degree.

Officials inclined to be a little off-color have but one alternative these days and that is to keep absolutely straight.

Being careful is no insurance against being caught.

A NEW USE.

With the completion of the Panama Canal, there will, of necessity, be a readjustment of routes of commerce and travel, which will radiate from the canal to all parts of the world. The western coast of Central and South America will then constitute a definite sanitary menace to the United States.

This means, of course, close contact by ship with the ports where yellow fever, cholera and smallpox are always present, not to mention a host of other infectious diseases, will expose our Atlantic and Gulf ports to the constant peril of epidemic invasion.

It will probably fall to the Public Health Service to provide against this new danger. The present quarantine service embraces a chain of fifty-three stations encircling the United States, New York being the only important port not covered by the federal service. The Service also includes Porto Rico and Hawaii in its quarantine protection, and administers the quarantine of the Canal Zone.

The maritime traffic which will consequently converge at the Canal Zone will bring with it large numbers of sailors of all nations, including the United States, and a medical relief station will be necessary, and perhaps also a large marine hospital should be erected at some favorable location in the Canal Zone, either at sea-level or in the mountains because it would find a large and increasing field of usefulness, and in fact will be almost a necessity.

Offices at Colon and Panama should be equipped for emergency and ambulance cases, and as receiving stations for the marine hospital it is suggested.

There is a unique opportunity in the Canal Zone for the establishment of a laboratory for the investigation of tropical and subtropical diseases. The material which will be available from all parts of the world, especially from Central and South America, will afford opportunity for valuable studies of diseases which will soon be even a greater national menace than at present.

Germans Take Vacation During Winter

By M. N. Thomas, Baltimore, Md.

Two extra days for every week of vacation is being offered by the German Imperial bank to employees who are willing to postpone their holidays till winter. The reason is that to give everybody a vacation in summer too greatly depletes the office force and puts a long strain on the men who have to carry the work of absentees.

Those who suffer from the heat may need a fortnight or a month of respite in the summer, but those who can get through the heated term in good physical condition could well afford to wait till winter and draw a bonus of golden days. One day would carry a German across the Alps to the warm sunshine of Italy or the Riviera, a very moderate amount of time will take a New Englander to Bermuda, Florida or the West Indies.

Many a worker who is planning a little excursion would be glad to postpone it till winter for the sake of four extra days.

The plan may be commended to employers who find it difficult to provide for everybody during the recognized vacation season.

Poetry For Today

JUST A HINT.

There was a man named Sammy Quick,
Who did the early shopping trick.
He got his goods without delay
And found that they were all O. K.

There was a man named Johnny Slow,
Who said: "I've lots of time to go
And buy things to hang on the tree.
I don't like folks to hurry me."

On Christmas Eve Sam Quick felt fine;
He took his family out to dine,
Went to a show, enjoyed each scene,
And Sammy's temper was serene.

But Johnny Slow on that same night
Came home as if from a prize fight.
His face was scratched. Oh, he felt sore,
He'd fought six rounds in every store.

Shop right away, and do not pause,
Then you will not feel Santa's claws.

Another Probe Likely

Monopoly Charge Against the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

Washington, Dec. 12.—That an inquiry into the charge that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company enjoys a monopoly of transportation facilities in New England will be recommended by the house committee on rules, is the conclusion reached by those who have followed closely the hearings before the committee on the O'Shanghnessy resolution. This resolution provides for the creation of a special committee of the house to investigate the transportation conditions in New England, with special attention to the report that the New Haven road entered into negotiations with the Grand Trunk that contemplated a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

equal to amounts paid up to that time. This would put the greater burden on the starters.

A stake race of this sort could be sold to some racing association for a reasonable sum which would be added to entrance money and the two combined should afford a desirable purse to race for.

Something of this nature would afford a real or reflected value to every well bred colt, and should be given due consideration. Other and better plans may be suggested, and it is to be hoped that something may come of it.—Chas. Allen.

Reducing Disease In State

Infantile Paralysis Materially Reduced by Quarantine.

Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Infantile paralysis, which during the last summer claimed hundreds of baby victims throughout the state, has been materially reduced, owing to the prompt and vigorous methods of quarantine ordered by the state board of health.

During the last 30 days the number of cases in the state was reduced to 13, accompanied by three deaths, against between 300 and 500 cases per month and scores of deaths that occurred during the latter part of the summer and early fall.

The order of the state board of health that all infantile paralysis cases be quarantined met with considerable opposition on the part of country doctors. These contended the disease was not contagious and that quarantine was not necessary.

A great decrease in the total number of deaths in the state resulting from contagious diseases is shown for the last 30 days.

Fail to Locate Beverstock.

Williston, N. D., Dec. 12.—Officers from Wood county, Ohio, failed to find Edward Beverstock, alleged embezzler, who was reported to have been employed on a threshing crew in this vicinity. Beverstock is said to have embezzled $7,500 trust funds as a result of alleged grain speculations and to have fled. The officers had requisition papers.

Ohio Miners For White.

St. Clairsville, O., Dec. 12.—Incomplete returns from the election for officers of the United Mine Workers of America indicate that 17,000 miners of the eastern Ohio subdistrict gave Joseph P. White of Iowa a majority for international president of the organization. William Green of Coshocton, president pro tem. of the Ohio senate, carried the subdistrict three to one for international secretary-treasurer.

LOCAL MERCHANTS HAVE HEAVY HOLIDAY STOCKS

Something for Every Man, Woman and Child in This and Surrounding Counties -- Holiday Rush Has Just Begun to Make Its Appearance.

Washington merchants are now fully prepared to supply every man, woman and child in the county with all kinds of Christmas presents from the inexpensive toy to the more elaborate presents running up into two and three figures—all dollars.

The merchants have made exceptionally large purchases covering a variety so great that it will be an easy matter for even the most particular to secure what they want in the form of an ideal present for their friends.

Shoppers will not find it necessary to go to larger cities in order to be thoroughly satisfied in their purchases, and in order to please their friends.

Every counter, every shelf, every show case and in fact every nook and corner have been utilized in making room for the wide range of Christmas goods displayed, and already the shops have commenced to swarm with early shoppers.

Shopping has been quiet until this week, but from now on all of the extra sales clerks will have their hands full in taking care of the streams of shoppers who will throng to this city from all over Fayette county and many of the adjoining counties.

Washington's inducements to Christmas shoppers has long been recognized and this year is expected to be no exception.

In the eleven shopping days remaining between this and Christmas, Washington merchants will undoubtedly do a record-breaking business, and the belated shopper is the one who will find it hardest to decide upon the right presents, as the early comers will, as usual, secure their choice of the entire assortment of presents.

In the Christmas goods shown by the local merchants this year a greater variety than ever is offered, and a vast number of new and attractive gift-things are offered at surprisingly reasonable prices.

Again this year really useful articles are leaders in Christmas goods, and the early shopper is finding it far more delightful to drop in and secure just what he or she wants without a long wait or a limited display to select from.

Mobile Printers and Socialists Would Not Perpetuate Andrew's Memory.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 12.—Resolutions opposing acceptance of $50,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a public library in Mobile were presented to the city commission by Mobile Typographical Union No. 27, following the protest filed by the Socialists. The typographical union's resolution recites: "We view with disfavor the proposed action of the city authorities to accept from Andrew Carnegie $50,000 of his tainted and conscience-stricken money to build a public library building which will serve chiefly as a memorial to himself and cost the taxpayers $5,000 a year for maintenance." The laboring people, say the resolutions, do not desire to see his name perpetuated.

May Su: B. & O. On Damage Claim

A claim agent of the B. & O. S. W. is in the city looking after business of the road, and it is rumored that his presence here is to investigate the destruction of the Washington Handle Factory on Sunday morning, May 19th, when the plant was completely destroyed by a fire of unknown origin which started shortly before four o'clock and quickly licked up the factory.

It is said that one or more of the three insurance companies which held risks on the property, contemplated bringing suit against the B. & O. for the recovery of damages on the claim that sparks from a B. & O. engine started the blaze and caused the loss. Details regarding the affair have been hard to secure. It will be recalled that the factory has been twice destroyed by fire during the past three years, and each time the loss was several thousand dollars.

Satisfactory adjustment of the insurance has been made with Mr. Mobley, who is at the head of the enterprise.

Blaze in Cellar Calls Department

At nine o'clock Thursday morning a fire alarm was turned in from the residence of Mrs. Willa Sollars, on East Temple street, where some boards in the furnace room had ignited from a red-hot pipe.

Prompt assistance on the part of neighbors and passersby extinguished the blaze without damage before the fire department arrived. Timely discovery of the blaze probably saved a disastrous fire.

The family jar waxed fiercer. "You talk about my being to blame for our marrying!" shrilly exclaimed Mrs. Vick-Senn. "John Henry, did I hunt you out and then make love to you?" "No!" he snorted. "But you could have given me the glassy eye and sent me about my business, and you didn't do it, madam—you didn't do it!"—Chicago Tribune.

Capital Punishment. "Mamma, did you love to flirt when you were young?" "I am afraid I did, dear." "And were you ever punished for it, mamma?" "Cruelly, dear. I married your father."—Paris Rire.

CHRISTMAS POINTERS

FROM THE POSTOFFICE

Instructions, if Followed, Will Insure Safe Delivery of All Christmas Packages in Ample Time—Mail Packages Early and Take No Risk of Delay Due to Congested Mails.

While the postoffices all over the land are interested in advocating early Christmas shopping, they are more interested in the early sending of presents that must go by mail, and the custom of mailing presents has become so pronounced that to insure delivery on time it is absolutely necessary that the presents be mailed several days ahead of time. Christmas day falls on Wednes- day this year and if you want to be certain that your package will be delivered, mail it not later than the Saturday before Christmas. Pack- ages mailed on Monday before Christmas are liable to become held up in the heavy holiday mails and not be delivered by Christmas morn- ing even if they are intended for points as close as Columbus, Cincin- nati or Dayton. If your package goes to some point west of Chicago or east of Buffalo, mail it a week before Christmas in order to insure delivery.

Mail your packages early.

Allow twice the usual time for de- livery.

Wrap your packages securely, us- ing heavy paper and good, stout twine.

Write the address legibly and ac- curately, and in addition, place the sender's name and address in the up- per left-hand corner. In case you do not wish to place the name of the sender on the package, use extra care in writing the address plainly. As an extra precaution, write the address on the package itself as well as on the wrapper, and in case the wrapper is torn in transit, your package will still be delivered to the address.

Do not mail your package wrap- ped only in tissue paper. This is very dangerous, as the flimsy tissue soon becomes torn and mutilated in handling and in many cases the ad- dress is torn completely off. A large percentage of the lost packages in the Christmas mail can be attribut- ed to this habit of sending tissue- wrapped parcels. If you wish to use tissue paper, place an additional wrapping of some stronger paper around the outside and write the ad- dress on this wrapper.

If your package is valuable, have it registered. This costs only ten cents in addition to the regular pos- tage and insures safe delivery for your present.

The rate for sealed matter is two cents per ounce or fraction thereof; for merchandise, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof. Packages with Christmas stickers or stamps pasted over the edge of the wrapper can be mailed only at the first class or let- ter rate of two cents per ounce. If stickers are used, place them on the package so as to not interfere with the edges of the wrapping paper.

Cards bearing the written in- scription of "Merry Christmas," "With Best Wishes," or "Do not open until Christmas," together with the name of the party for whom the gift is intended, may be attached to each article in a pack- age without affecting the rate, but any further writing or communica- tion will subject the whole package to postage at the first class rate of two cents per ounce.

New York Selected

Progressive Party Names its Perma- nent Headquarters.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—New York was selected as the permanent head- quarters of the executive committee of the new Progressive party, after a fight in which delegates to the national Progressive conference from several states sought to have the head- quarters located elsewhere. The vote on this question stood 32 to 12. By a number of the delegates to the con- ference the selection of New York was received as a victory for George W. Perkins and his friends, against whom some opposition has been developed in the conference.

Sidna Allen Put Away.

Wytheville, Va., Dec. 12.—Thirty- five years in the penitentiary is the penalty Sidna Allen will pay for his part in the shooting up of the Carroll county courthouse at Hillsville last March. Allen's nephew, Wesley, 32- wards, will spend 27 years in the pen- itentiary.

POULTRY, BUTTER AND EGGS IN PARCELS POST?

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—Post- master Thomas B. Smith has gone to Washington to find if chickens, turkeys, butter and eggs will be allowed transportation in the new parcels post.

Fresh supply Mrs. Austin's Bag Buckwheat now on hand at your grocers.

County Seat War.

Muskogee, Okla., Dec. 12.—District Judge John H. Pitchford appealed to Governor Cruce to send troops to De- laware county, where factions from the towns of Old and New Jay are reported on the verge of battle as a result of the dispute between the two towns as to which should be recog- nized as the county seat.

Dynamite Witness Accused of Perjury

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 12.—Perjury was charged against William H. Quig- ley, a union carpenter of Detroit, who was a defense witness in the dynamite conspiracy trial, and he was placed in the custody of the federal marshal until bond could be fixed.

A Stetson Story.

The late John Stetson, famous in his day as a theatrical manager, was hav- ing a yacht built, and a friend, meeting him on the street, asked him what he was going to name the boat. "I haven't decided yet," replied John, "but it will be some name commencing with S, probably either Psyche or Cluch."

Bismarck Forgave.

Bismarck could forgive, but he wished to do it after proper solici- tation. At the beginning of the Danish war Field Marshal Wrangle, who was at the head of the Prussian troops, was exceedingly annoyed at one point to be telegraphed not to advance farther, and he returned a message telling King William that "these diplomats who spoil the most successful opera- tions deserve the gallows." After that Bismarck ignored him completely, and one day they met at the king's table, where it was especially awkward to preserve a coldness. Wrangle called everybody "du," and presently he turned to Bismarck, who was seated next him, and said, "My son, canst thou not forget?" "No," was the curt reply. After a pause Wrangle began again, "My son, canst thou not for- give?" "With all my heart," said Bis- marck, and the breach was healed.

Correct Diagnosis.

Patient—Shall I have to give up beer, doctor? Doctor—No; I shan't forbid it to you. Patient—It's extraordinary, doctor, what confidence I have in you. —Fleigende Blätter.
